Amplitude difference between modeled and observed length change